Invoicing

When adding a non-stock part from the price book to an invoice the line will display as a "P" line to start. After the quantity is entered the part will be added to inventory using the price and description from the price book then using the price multipliers to calculate the selling prices.

A new screen will display showing a message "Adding Stocked Part" and there will be a slight pause while the part number is being added as it is added to all locations.

As the part number is added to inventory the invoice line type will change from "P" to Space.

The new part will be treated the same as any other stocked part after it has been added
